The Daily Bulletin.

FRIDAY, NOV. 17, 1882.

couldn't find the calm center of a storm if you life depended on it; you don't know what a sirocco is, nor where the south-west monsoon blows; you don't know the average rainfall in the United States for the past and current year, you don't understand the formation of fog, and you can't explain why the dew falls at night and dries up in the day; you don't know why a wind dries the ground more quickly than a hot sun; you don't know one solitary thing about the weather, and you are just like a thousand and one other people who always begin talking about the weather because they don't know anything else, when, by the cave of Boreas, sir, they know less about the weather than they do about anything else in the world!

And the man in the corner glared up and down at the timid passengers in the South Hill car, but no man durst answer him. And as for the man in thin clothes, he didn't know for the life of him whether he had a sunstroke or an ague chill. He only knew that it seemed about twenty-seven miles to the Jefferson-street crossing.—Burlington Hawkeye.
